I. OLD BUSINESS:

An oral report was given by LAS Advising - Jerry Buchholz on various Developmental English programs around the United States. It appears that all major universities are being confronted with a crisis in the type of developmental courses offered at their particular institutions as the credit hours awarded cannot be used for graduation purposes.

After a lengthy discussion by all of the above participants, a recommendation was made to have LAS Advising check out the Developmental English and Reading Programs at PPCC. Also, to find out from PPCC English Department the academic curricula of English courses 101, 102, and 103.

II. NEW BUSINESS:

None.
